

Leadership Statement

Jeff Beyerl

Leadership is the skill of positively affecting the people around you. In particular one of the most influential things in a person's life is the people around him. Hence it is important to be a person of integrity, creativity, and excellence; this is all the more important in a role of teaching, mentoring, and guiding the next generation.

I believe in being the best person I can be. This is not just for my own benefit but also for those around me. Through the years I have been in position to be a role model for numerous people: students, mentees, and friends aspiring to study mathematics. As I age as a Christian I will become a role model for the younger in faith: and I will strive to be a person of good character.

I thrive in tough situations. I perform very well in the midst of tough decisions: the more constraints such as limited time and money the better I perform. I am a natural problem solver and step up to the challenge when the going gets tough.
