

Digital Technologies in the Classroom

Chapter 4 Objectives

After studying this chapter, the student will be able to

- Describe the features of key digital input technologies and explain how each can be used in support of teaching and learning
- Describe the features of key digital output technologies and explain how each can be used in support of teaching and learning
- Analyze and explain the issues associated with using digital technologies in the classroom
- Describe key emerging digital technologies that may be useful to teachers and learners in the future and explain their potential implementation