

Chapter 9 - Audio and Visual Technologies

Chapter Objectives

After studying this chapter, the student will be able to

- Name and describe the difference between traditional and digital audio and visual media
- Describe educational applications of both traditional and digital audio and visual media
- Investigate and identify the uses of audio media in support of teaching and learning
- Review and describe the application of visual media in support of teaching and learning
- Identify types and applications of projected and non-projected visual media in the learning environment
- Describe how the Internet can provide audio and visual support for teaching and learning